

Our members talk about St Joseph's Aids Action Group (SAAG)

Tell us about yourself

I am Sr. Celestina M. Tiheli. I am from Lesotho. I am a member of the congregation of Holy Cross Sisters. I live at Enkanyisweni. I am doing my second year in Religious Studies (RST II).

How did you decide to join the St Joseph's Aids Action Group (SAAG)?

I saw the need. Our people are dying because of the lack of knowledge.

What do you think about SAAG's accomplishments after 8 years of creation?

More growth will come out.

How did you participate personally in the ministry of SAAG?

By giving education and improving awareness in the society.

Do you have any personal message to give to our target youth or to the rest of the members of SAAG?

To live what we preach. To treasure life and love ourselves, not involving ourselves in sex before marriage. To be faithful to ourselves. To encourage one another as well as to challenge each other in order to build our society.

Any other (general) message you would like to give:

The way forward: e.g.: Do we see good results? What do we promote (as members of SAAG)? Do we go for testing in order to give example and to encourage others?

Thank you very much for sharing with us and for your remarkable dedication to our ministry!
